+Greenhouse nylons

Nylon is a wide plastic greenhouse that is single-layer, double-layer, three-layer, etc. These coatings have the ability to remain stable in all weather conditions.

+Legume nylon

Legume nylons can keep beans for up to one year because they prevent air and moisture from entering the package and protect it from direct light.

+Nylon shearing

These types of nylons consist of a thin layer of plastic that is used to package goods by heat. When it is placed around the product, it is heated by a shirring device and finally it sticks to the outer layer of the packaged product in the form of a very rigid nylon wrap.

+Nylon tea with strap

It is a product made from the primary mode of polyethylene, which is known as the most widely used nylon for food packaging.

+Bubble wrap

Bubble nylons are in the group of the most essential furniture removal equipment. The best and most resistant of this type of nylon consists of three layers, which makes the product thicker and better quality.

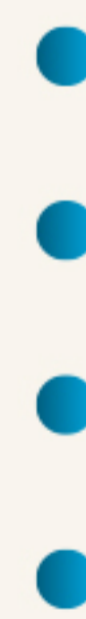

- disposable tablecloth
- Plastic tablecloth is produced from polyethylene polymer with other additives. Different colors and prints are used to make the tables more beautiful.

+Rolly garbage bag

The roll garbage bag is sewn on one side and perforated on the other side, perforated or cut line makes it possible to separate the garbage bag with just one hand without the need for any tools.

+Nylon printed stiletto

One of the most widely used types of plastics with handles that we deal with every day is printed nylon, which you can order from our collection with various designs and dimensions.

+single-use glove

These types of gloves are widely used in hotels, kitchens, health centers and hospitals and are available to customers in two types, thick and thin.

These types of gloves are disposable, non-sterile and powder-free, and they have a lower price than other gloves.

One of the main production plans of the New Nylex brand is to produce plastic products that

- • • cause the least damage to nature,
- • • and in this regard, we have been trying for years to provide you with the best quality with the most up-to-date material and reasonable price. Compete with world-renowned brands and be welcomed by our audience.
